

Narration - “Supposed to Be”

Dorothy, Toto, and the Scarecrow had made a new friend, the Tin Man, and they told him of their journey to the land of Oz. Dorothy was going to ask the Wizard of Oz if she could go back to Kansas. The Scarecrow was going to request a brain. Perhaps the Tin Man could travel with them and ask the Wizard for a heart. It sounded like a great idea, but before they could take even one step together, they discovered they were being watched by a large animal. The initial scare was turned around when they found the large animal was even more afraid of them!
